“ Linda,
I only found out today May 7, 2012 about Paul's death. You must miss your brother but we are all aware of the beautiful promises in scripture of eternal life and these promises bring such hope. Reading his obituary brought back such fun and joyful memories of college days spend at your home with Paul and your mother and father.

“ I think that you'd probably do well in a consulting role where you are helping companies who want to improve in the area of creating passionate users (products and websites). Your knowledge of the field is shown well by your blogging, and maybe getting out in front of people will give you more of a reason to stay passionate about this subject area (if not the blog itself).

“ That's fine for the House and Senate but for president, there is no way any conservative should vote for either Democrat that will be stuffed down our throats next year. The House is the grand prize. If we had someone like Jim Jordan as Speaker and more than the current 3 reliable conservative senators, the president wouldn't matter.

“ Kathy, the content you have graciously shared with us every once in a while is both inspiring and entertaining. And a blog is the perfect medium for this. A lot of the content is about your style and creative personality. Thus, I would rule out the community-based ideas. I would probably only read your stuff anyway.

“ I'm not sure what you have against "The Five". I mean, four of the five panel members are on the right. The only creep is Bob Beckel. I admit, his creepiness makes the show a bit harder to handle. But Greg Gutfeld makes up for it! I LOVE him!! Beckel will probably have a stroke or a heart attack on the show one day and they can just shove him off the stage and continue on.

FarruxEvrey - August 01, 2011 at 08:23 AM

“ O.K. I give up. What is your beef with Gutfeld? I think he is hilarious! He is not a serious contributor, but is there for laughs. I like him.

MuzapDoirachi - July 31, 2011 at 04:30 AM

“ Maybe the private blog is the way to go, though I suspect you'd need some time to get revved up for that. The pod/video angle sounds great, but that raises a lot of other questions. And it loses the immediacy that you enjoyed so long, which is one of the most unfortunate losses in all this.

“ I have so many wonderful memories of Paul DiFazio. I met Paul through my dear friend, Susan Turner sometime in the eighties. I soon discovered that Paul was "kindness" itself. When I was at the hospital recovering from an ovarian cancer operation he came to lighten my spirits by bringing me several booklets on cancer cures. Little did he know then, that it was his loving nature that helped to heal me more then the booklets. At another time when he came to my rescue, he was instrumental in obtaining divorces for my two daughters. He made sure that the cost to them was minimal. They will always be grateful to Paul for making z very painful time in their lives much easieer to bare. He was such a loyal friend. I remember the time he drove several hours to Pennsylvania to help move all of Susan's belongings back to his house, storing them for her until she was ready to retrieve them. Paul loved to talk politics, to run, to care for his three adorable dogs. Foremost, he loved his lovely sister, Linda, as well as her two children, and dearly loved his Mom aand Dad. I will remember him always in the highest terms, and always be grateful that he came into my life. Love to you, Paul and the family he loved so. Eileen Acker, Wallingford, Ct.

“ I was sorry to hear of the passing of "uncle Paul". As I have been so close to the Lech/Defazio family for all of my life, I knew Paul well and enjoyed my conversations with him. Paul's love of Linda, Michael and Aly (and his dogs!) was visible every time he visited. He was a spirited soul, not afraid to express his opinions, holding steadfast to his beliefs but always caring towards his family. I am glad to have know him and spent time with him. God Bless Uncle Paul.

“ He was funny! He was so so funny. He would laugh so hard he would cry. It didn't matter what he was saying, just being around his laughter would make me laugh. I will always remember him, the way he moved his hand when he talked in a forward motion, the way he would rub his head back and forth when he was thinking, the way he puffed his chest when he was telling a joke. He would have done anything for my brother and I. He filled out all of our boarding school and college applications and subsequently drove us to and from school enjoying every minute. He was such a big part of our childhood spending hours with my brother and I most weekends, playing in the attic and watching Saturday Night Live. He introduced us to Rosanna Rosanna Danna and the rest of the SNL crew. We always had so much fun with him. I will miss you. The lights may have gone out Paul but they are still flickering...

“ Dearest Paul,

Thank you for spending the last full day of your life with us. It was the most perfect Thanksgiving Day for us and our family because of you. The best part was seeing how truly happy you were to be with all of us. We will remember it always.

To have a perfect day and to go to paradise for eternity the next day is the best gift anyone could ever get. We will always have a special place in our hearts for you.

With love from,

“ Paul was my brother, teacher and greatest supporter. He was always there for me no matter what. I already miss his fabulous sense of humor and laughter. We laughed so hard tears rolled down my cheeks. He loved his family, life, people, animals and nature and took great care of all of them. He adored my children Michael and Ally and gave them a tremendous amount of his time, energy and love. He always found the best in a person, with his attention to them, and helped the person see it too. He lived what all the great spiritual teachers taught...to help the less fortunate...to feed the hungry...to know everyone is your brother. He helped so many people. I have been fortunate to have had in my lifeit wasn't always a walk in the parkbut the good far out weighed any sibling stuff. His endearing last words to me were "I have never not loved you your whole life" He was a true gentleman a wise scholar and the best brother ever. He is part of me; I know I now have a Major Angel watching over me. I love you into eternity Paul, and I will always miss you.

“ Paul was my dear friend for over 40 years. Although I have not seen him for a decade, we have kept in contact by phone and letter. The two of us could talk forever about politics, philosophy, food, movies and just about anything. I have so many precious memories. I remember one time he campaigned to get his favorite movie "A Thousand Clowns" to come to a local theater. Hundreds of post cards were addressed and signed. Sure enough, the movie came to several sites. As winter approached each year, he would ship me a couple of huge boxes, filled with coats and jackets so that I could give them out to the high school students who had nothing to wear in the cold. Paul could not do enough for people. He truly gave from his heart- the laughter, the deep compassion, the helping hand, the endless energy and most importantly, the love. He wanted to see things change, not for himself, but for others. Dearest Paul, thank you for all of your beautiful gifts, of the heart! All our love, Susan and Leah

“ I am forever thankful for the love and guidance of my Uncle Paul. A big part of his love lives on through me and my children. His teachings and philosophies are forever woven into the fabric of our lives. Through out my life he met me with enthusiasm and joy. In his passing he will be remembered with that very same enthusiasm and joy. I will miss him dearly and will forever hold a special place in my heart for the time we shared. I love you Uncle Paul and am proud to carry your name.

Chuck and I are so very sorry to learn of Paul's passing. He seems so young to be leaving us....but Paul was always a wise old soul, way beyond his years. We remember the fun times with Paul...his wit and humor, love of family and of course his opinion on just about everything!
