“ I was so sorry to hear of my lovely godmother passing on. I will never forget her sparkling eyes and wonderful smile, which projected her inner beauty. Rest peacefully, your struggles are over.

“ When Sybil's daughter Sharon and I were in our "teens" Sybil was like a second Mom to me. She never seemed to tire of us running in and out of the house, always happy to be making us her wonderful cheeseburgers and even taking us to the beach on vacation--she was a brave woman! In my early twenties, I moved to Montana with my husband Russell and moved back to Connecticut just a few years ago. Sharon and I picked up as if there was no time lost, and when I saw Sybil, it was the same. She still made me feel so welcome and I knew how truly happy she was to see me--her eyes smiled & twinkled like they always did. Some of my fondest rememberances of growing up took place in that little house on Homestead Avenue with she and Sharon. Thankyou, Sybil for your patience, kindness & all the wonderful memories. --Love, Joyce
